

First United Baptist Church
1826

Building History

Greek Revival in style, the church was built in 1826 and is the second oldest in Lowell. Located within the Downtown Lowell Historic District, the church is a significant architectural, historic, and cultural resource that also had several prominent members involved with the Abolition movement and actively welcomed new members from the African Meeting House in Boston.

(Photo – Lowell National Historical Park)